Just because this is a Kansas based Forum doesnt mean you dont have people checking it out from other locations. Our forums are Birmingham, Alabama based but we have members from Ireland,Canada,England, etc...I'm not just out SPAMMING..I keep an eye on all forums I post on. Thanks! Delete if you must..I'll be sure to send all my guys up to Kansas for your next lan.

don't take it as a negative man. We have spammers hit here all the time so it is a typical response from me. Idk if you post from out of state (or in this case 18+ hours drive out of state) Just so long as your checking up on the post and giving info as requested.

I have been cross Country for LAN Parties before. If this would have been posted oh a month ago I would have tried to take the time off to come down myself (plus would have given me an excuse to come see family down that way).

any who sorry if you feel as I attacked you in any way, but I don't want people to spamming our forums. Welcome to the WLP forums and feel free to continue to post here as you like B)

Thanks bro. Sorry this post was a little late and close to the date of our event. I just came across your site while browsing thru some others, but I've added you to my list so I'll make sure you know about upcoming events sooner and I hope you've checked out our site as well. Thanks for the warm welcome!
